

Bloodred Hourglass

European Headline Tour 2025

Following the massive success of their extensive support tour with The Halo Effect and PAIN in January and February 2025, Finland's modern melodic death metal force Bloodred Hourglass (BRHG) is set to take Europe by storm with their first full headline tour in October 2025.

Having captivated audiences across the continent with their relentless energy, razor-sharp riffs, and anthemic melodies, BRHG has solidified their place among the genre's rising elite. Critics and fans alike have praised their electrifying performances, with standout moments from the previous tour proving that BRHG is more than ready to command the stage as headliners. Tracks from their latest album How's The Heart? have been met with overwhelming enthusiasm, fueling the anticipation for what promises to be an unforgettable tour.

With a setlist packed with fan-favorites, deep cuts, and most importantly, new music, this tour is a statement of intent: Bloodred Hourglass is here to stay, and they are bringing the fire.