

Tide Lines

The 10 Year Tour

Tide Lines are a band whose story stretches from the wild expanses of the Scottish Highlands to the beating heart of Glasgow. In June 2025, they celebrated a landmark moment with their fourth album Glasgow Love Story via their own Tide Lines Music label, which landed at No.1 in Scotland and No.11 in the UK Official Album Charts – their highest UK chart position to date and third Scottish No.1.

The band still record and rehearse in a converted church on the Isle of Mull, where the ever-changing Hebridean landscape seeps naturally into their sound. As vocalist/guitarist Robert Robertson puts it: “We’ve always felt like our music carries traces of where we’re from – the space, the weather, the drama of the Highlands. But it’s just as much about connection, about reaching people everywhere.” At heart, Tide Lines are a rock band in touch with the geography and the culture that formed them.
